Registration Underway for 2011 Michigan Energy Conference

BIG RAPIDS – Ferris State University is set to host the 2011 Michigan Energy Conference (April 13-14) and registration is underway.

The mission of MEC is to foster change through energy, energy innovation, technology and sustainability opportunities within Michigan. The annual event is attended by industry leaders in education, energy, energy management, public policy/governance, construction and transportation. Ferris has served as the host of the conference since 2008. Anyone interested in registration for MEC can register online.

The two-day registration fee is $250, a Wednesday-only fee is $150, a Thursday-only fee is $150, a two-day educator fee is $140, the per-day educator fee is $75 and there is no student registration fee. For more information about registration, visit the MEC registration page here.

The agenda for the 2011 conference and all other information related to MEC can be viewed at <http://www.ferris.edu/mec/>.

For more information about the conference, contact Ferris Energy Center Coordinator Arn McIntyre at (231) 591-5811 or mec@ferris.edu.
