FERRIS STATE UNIVERSITY

December 1997

Dear Colleague:

The Ferris State University Fact Book 1997-98 is published for you, the students, faculty, staff, alumni, and friends of the University, who seek accurate information about Ferris. This project was conducted as a service to the University community by the Office of Institutional Studies in the Division of Academic Affairs. This seventh edition is a document that is designed to answer the most frequently asked questions about FSU.

It is with pleasure that we share the information with you. We encourage you to review this work and solicit your suggestions for improvement of future issues. A comment form is provided in the back of this book.

Our appreciation is extended to the many offices that assisted us with the development of the information, including Media Production's cover design. Special thanks go to Nina Worth for her assistance in putting together this Fact Book.

General Information

MISSION STATEMENT

Ferris State University will be a national leader in providing opportunities for innovative teaching and learning in career-oriented, technological and professional education.

FACTS AND FIGURES

HISTORY

One of Michigan's 15 public universities, Ferris State University is recognized for its career-oriented educational programs that are designed to meet the technology and work force demands of business and industry, the health-care professions, and society in general through applied research and practical education. Founded in 1884 on the concept of providing students with marketable skills, Ferris was established by Woodbridge N. Ferris (1853-1928), a distinguished Michigan educator and politician who served two terms as the state's governor and was elected a United States senator. Ferris was a private institute until 1950, when it joined the state higher education system. The college obtained university status in 1987.

CAMPUS SIZE                      600 acres

ACADEMIC DIVISIONS

- College of Allied Health Sciences
- College of Arts & Sciences
- College of Business
- College of Education
- Michigan College of Optometry at F.S.U.
- College of Pharmacy
- College of Technology
- University College

LOCATION

The Ferris State University campus is located in Big Rapids, a west-central Michigan city of approximately 12,600 in the vacation-recreation region. The campus is readily accessible by the US-131 expressway and state highway M-20. Big Rapids is 55 miles north of Grand Rapids and within 200 miles of Chicago and Detroit.

In an effort to keep pace with changing needs and advances in technology, the Ferris campus has been updated and renovated over the years. The 600 acres of rolling hills along the western bank of the Muskegon River is dotted with 114 modern campus buildings.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

Ferris offers more than 100 educational programs through the Colleges of Allied Health Sciences, Arts and Sciences, Business, Education, Pharmacy, Technology, and the Michigan College of Optometry at Ferris State University. These offerings lead to bachelor's and associate degrees and certificates and also include master's degrees in information systems management, career and technical education and criminal justice. Doctorates in optometry and pharmacy are also offered.

For the most part, each college encompasses a cluster of related programs which are targeted to prepare students for specific careers. The colleges operate in facilities which have been specially designed and equipped to support their missions.

Ferris is a national leader in the development of the concept of laddering, which enables students to advance their careers by building on previous training. For example, an individual who has gained employment after completing a two-year degree may later seek career advancement by returning to Ferris and earning a bachelor's degree. This concept also permits students to readily transfer into Ferris programs.

ADMISSIONS

Ferris State's diverse curricula allows it to maintain the tradition of admitting most mature, serious-minded applicants. Admission to certain programs must depend upon consideration of the applicant's qualifications for such a program. Specific program requirements are listed in the University catalog.

FINANCIAL AID

More than 65 percent of the students presently enrolled at Ferris State receive some type of financial aid through federal, state and Ferris programs, including scholarships, grants, loans and student employment. Ferris State University awards more than $40 million in student aid annually.

Most financial aid is based on need and is intended to assist students whose families cannot pay all or perhaps any of the college costs. Information on financial aid programs may be obtained by contacting the Office of Scholarships and Financial Aid at 1-800-940-4AID.

HOUSING

Ferris State University residence halls provide students with convenience and the opportunity to pursue their studies in an environment that supports the academic mission of the University. Various halls are designed to cater to specific interests and needs. Among them are halls for non-traditional students, a substance free hall, smoke free hall, private room options, apartment style hall, and the Honors Hall. All residence halls offer challenge and a variety of growth experiences including considerable employment opportunities.

Special services within the halls include mini-computer labs and individual student rooms that are data connective, cable television, RHA movie channel, washers and dryers, cooking capabilities, direct long distance dialing, referral desk and night security. Social, recreational and educational programming are routinely provided. Each hall has a hall director and student resident advisors.

The University apartments consist of the west campus townhouses, and the east and south complexes. The west campus complex has 150 two bedroom and 50 three bedroom unfurnished townhouses which are designed to provide a family atmosphere to students with families. Handicapped accessible townhouses are also available in which the entire living area is on a mall level, with full basement and laundry facilities.

The east and south complexes consist of 176 one and two bedroom units. They are designed for married couples with no more than one child and have laundry facilities in each building.

All apartments provide computer network connections to access the Internet, library and the University mainframe. Telephone and cable television and cable television connections are also provided. A community center in the center of the west campus complex houses a computer lab, meeting rooms and a large multi-purpose room where educational, social and children's programs are held.

CAREER SERVICES

A Ferris State University education is complimented by the array of career resources available at Ferris including Career Services, educational counselors and the Career & Educational Counseling Center. The Career Services Office assists students with their career and job search. The office maintains a career and employer library for students exploring career options and employment opportunities. Resume Expert, a state-of-the-art resume referral database, helps to match students with employers through the Web Resume Book. Job openings are posted directly on the internet by employers and Career Services staff. Students and alumni can view these jobs by going to the Ferris homepage (www.ferris.edu), clicking on "Other Services", and then "Ferris Job List." Annual surveys of employed alumni indicate that close to nine out of ten are employed in occupations related to their major field of study at Ferris and 97% of graduates are working or continuing their education. Ninety-eight percent of graduates seeking employment found jobs. All seven colleges had a 95% or higher placement rate. Job search workshops, walk-in resume review hours and "fast-fact" walk-in hours help give students both immediate and comprehensive information.

COMPUTING AND TELECOMMUNICATIONS FACILITIES

A high-speed, wide-area network provides broad campus access to labs, the Internet, and other computing resources such as Timme Library. The University has installed Ethernet connections in each of the 3,000 residence hall rooms and student apartments on campus. Every residence hall is equipped with a computer lab. In addition, there are large computing laboratories available to students in various locations on the Ferris State University campus. The Instructional Technologies Department provides media support for classroom instruction and facilitates distance learning activities to off-campus locations. The Telecommunications Department offers a variety of voice, video and data services. The University's IBM enterprise server supports on-line processing for academic and administrative users. Lotus Notes electronic mail and calendar service is available to all students, faculty and staff. The Ferris web site (<http://www.ferris.edu>) provides information about the University and is used to support classroom instruction.

CAMPUS MEDIA

Ferris offers students a variety of media, including a campus newspaper and local cable system (channel 7).

The Torch, which is published twice weekly, informs students of University news, events, and other related campus issues. FSU-TV Cable 7 serves the campus and community with educational and public service television programming.

The FYI is an internal newsletter published weekly for faculty and staff with limited student distribution, and the Crimson & Gold, published three times yearly, is aimed at keeping alumni and other key audiences informed. Some of the colleges and programs on campus also publish their own alumni publications.

LIBRARY AND INSTRUCTIONAL SERVICES (LIS)

Serving all areas of the University community, Library and Instructional Services (LIS) offers access to more information in varying formats from different sources on-site and around the world than ever before. Graduating from Ferris with a knowledge of how to find and evaluate necessary information to solve problems is critical to becoming a contributing professional and citizen in a continuously changing global, pluralistic and technological information-based society.

Library Instruction - To assist students in enhancing their skills and address the Libraries' educational goal, a sequenced library instruction program is offered. Classroom and library faculty collaborate to engage learners in activities which reveal how the rich library resources meet both simple and complex needs. Additionally, to meet the growing demand, special workshops, which were added for these sessions in 1995-96, have become a favorite of many users. The libraries maintain traditional and electronic reference services including e-mail (netref@lib01.ferris.edu) and the libraries' homepage (<http://consider.ferris.edu>) to help users.

Collections & Facilities - The University libraries consist of the Abigail S. Timme Library and a branch facility, the Health Sciences Library, house collections of over 3/4 million books, periodicals, Michigan and U.S. government documents, research reports, media and other materials. Over 12,000 items are added throughout the year. The campus libraries serve as a depository for U.S. Bureau of the Census and State of Michigan publications, and share this status with Northwestern Michigan College for other federal documents. The libraries also have been designated as one of three Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries located in Michigan.

The Individualized Learning Center (ILC) holds the libraries' non circulating media collections, and provides microcomputer access. It is sometimes called the "Internet Room" as the computers may be used to access e-mail and Internet/Web.

University archives functions are the collection and organizational point to preserve Ferris State's history. Books once owned by Woodbridge N. Ferris, the University's founder, books about him, those about the institution, and publications written by faculty, staff, students and alumni will be found in these collections.

Information Accessibility - The collections are shelved/filed by format and linked together with the on-line catalog. Forty-seven workstations are on site for searching either this catalog, the CD-ROM Network, which includes the catalog and a growing number of commercial CD-ROM products, or Internet/Web. Access is also available in campus microcomputer labs, residence halls and offices.

Electronic access to an increasing number of other libraries in northwest lower Michigan is made possible through FerrisNet, which includes Northwestern Michigan College and Big Rapids Community Library. Still countless other library collections are searchable with Internet/Web.

Circulation/Document Delivery - To borrow books and government documents, users simply show a valid Ferris ID card, one from a library where a reciprocity agreement exists or a MichiCard. Periodical articles may be photocopied.

For materials not owned, Ferris State students, faculty and staff may initiate a request to borrow an item from another library/information center. To fill these requests, the Interlibrary Loan staff use state-of-the-art technologies and sources. A prime source is OCLC which connects more than 20,000 national and international member libraries/information centers to deliver items by mail, couriers, fax and other systems.

Hours - The campus libraries are open 88 hours per week when the University is in session fall and winter semesters. Semester break and summer semester hours vary. Even when the libraries are closed, the on-line catalog and CD-ROM Network remain operational. Hours are posted on the on-line catalog, CD-ROM Network, Libraries' homepage, building entrances or by calling (616) 592-3602.

STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS

Student related issues receive a great amount of attention from the student affairs department. Included in the student affairs division are the following units: Rankin Student Center, Birkam Health Center, Counseling Center, Minority Affairs, Student Judicial Services, Student Leadership and Activities, Career Services, University Recreation, Orientation and Enrollment Services.

To help students grow socially and culturally, as well as academically, Ferris State has more than 150 organizations on campus including 60 related to instructional programs. Another 23 are related to extracurricular interests. The Interfraternity Council oversees 15 social fraternities, and the Panhellenic Council oversees six social sororities. There are seven honor societies, ten professional fraternities and recognition groups and two service organizations. There are also 12 religious organizations.

ATHLETICS

The Ferris State University Bulldogs are members of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA). Varsity teams compete in the Central Collegiate Hockey Association (NCAA Division I) in ice hockey, the Midwest Intercollegiate Football Conference (NCAA Division II) in football and the Great Lakes Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (NCAA Division II) in all other sports.

Ferris students participate in 12 varsity sports: golf, tennis, basketball for men and women; softball, cross country & track, volleyball for women; hockey and football for men.

Annually, more than half of the student body participates in organized recreational sports activities, including extensive intramural and club sport programs. Other students participate in informal recreation activities.

Ferris provides ample facilities for athletics and recreation, including a field house with pool, weight room, basketball and volleyball courts and indoor track; a golf course; a sports complex including full and half-size ice rinks and volleyball and wrestling facilities; racquetball courts and indoor and outdoor tennis courts.

CULTURAL EVENTS

Concerts by Ferris State Music Center organizations such as the West Central Concert Band, Chamber Orchestra, Jazz Ensemble, Concert Choir, and Ferris Wheels (men's glee club), and productions of the University Theater are augmented by appearances of professional music, drama and dance organizations and other performing arts groups.

The Ferris Art Gallery features exhibits of paintings, prints, photography, sculpture and crafts, as well as special exhibits featuring leading Michigan artists, FSU faculty and students.

The Arts and Lectures Committee offers a schedule of lectures, concerts and films, while Entertainment Unlimited presents pop/rock and comedy concerts and other events of a contemporary nature.

The Center for International Education's "International Festival of Cultures" brings the world to Big Rapids with students, faculty, staff, and community members presenting cultural displays, performances, and food from more than fifty countries worldwide.

LIFELONG LEARNING

Lifelong Learning provides a wide range of continuing education and public service programs, conducted both for credit and non-credit, enabling many adults and youth to keep abreast of changes in their field of interest.

Lifelong Learning coordinates and co-sponsors conferences, seminars, and programs for faculty and staff as well as professional programs for business and industry. Many opportunities are available to provide continuing education and professional development programs for people of all ages and backgrounds. The summer youth and adult activities provide excellent opportunities for participants to develop personal enrichment skills and visit the campus and enjoy the excellent facilities and services provided by the various departments. A tremendous university benefit is the immeasurable level of student recruitment that takes place through the positive exposure to Ferris experienced by participants. Staff are committed to providing expertise and enthusiasm to facilitate first-rate learning experiences for everyone.

Evening College is offered for area residents and others unable to attend college on a full-time basis who wish to pursue a degree or take classes for personal growth. Lifelong Learning provides logistical support for Ferris summer school programs.

Various degree programs at Ferris State University are offered off-campus at strategic sites throughout the state and are designed to meet the needs of the adult learner. These programs are administered through regional centers in Grand Rapids, Traverse City, and Flint, through the cooperation of the academic colleges in these areas.

Lifelong Learning serves a large number of people in its public service role. The Business Development Center, the Senior Employment Program, and the Learning/Nutrition Project and the Professional Development and Training Program activities all exist to help their constituents in a variety of ways.

TECHNOLOGY TRANSFER CENTER

Ferris State University's Technology Transfer Center (TTC) has been involved in partnerships to help businesses with solutions to training and industrial process needs since 1984. Over 1,000 companies have taken advantage of the skills and facilities offered.

TTC is known for its ability to partner with business and industry to tackle issues related to custom training, process consulting, certification, and assessment. Through the establishment of institutes, training and certification needs can be solved at a state and national level. Work is accomplished by contracting with the TTC to create the proper partnership between the company, Ferris State University faculty and staff, outside resources, and students complete the project goals.

TTC offers custom assessment and technical training solutions to company-specific product, process, and equipment for return on investment of training dollars. Training can be delivered at the training facilities located at the main complex in Big Rapids, or at the company's plant site.

TTC facilities are air conditioned and equipped with audio visual equipment. Computers and related equipment may be provided. Training on hundreds of technical topics may be serviced. Training may also involve participant assessment and certification as required. TTC has invested in the future of training by creating the capacity for development of computer interactive training for business and industry.

In order to keep cost down (through long term delivery methods) and keep training value high (while providing a customized training program) TTC may create custom or standard training modules which utilize computer interactive theoretical training combined with hands-on applied training. This type of training has been successfully completed for Evert Products-Extron to teach plastic injection mold operation and for D-M-E Company, Inc. to teach injection mold base technology.

New trends in industry are showing that the new workforce requires more technical training and employers are wanting to pay for skill, not time-in-task. Therefore, certification tools have become an important part of TTC's offerings.

In the area of grant writing services, TTC has been successful in helping gain support for industrial and business projects. In the past ten years, TTC has managed over $1.7 million in grants. Through the State Workforce Commission-Economic Development Job Training Grants, four companies have obtained a total of $506,000 in grants to provide needed training to upgrade their workforce.

The Technology Transfer Center may provide custom and institute-based training and certification, grant writing services, computer interactive training and multimedia services, and manufacturing consulting and assessments to meet the needs of business and industry.

The Technology Transfer Center is located at 1020 East Maple Street near the Big Rapids Industrial Park. Phone 616-592-5800, Fax 616-796-1448.

POINTS OF INTEREST

Alumni Building (1929) - The oldest building on campus, it contains administrative offices, recreation facilities, and faculty offices and classrooms for the College of Arts and Sciences.

Arts and Sciences Commons (1996) - This new building houses faculty and administration offices for the College of Arts and Sciences and the University College, student academic support services such as tutoring, an educational counseling center, and a number of computer laboratories. It also contains art works by Michigan artists and "The Visionary," a major mural by resident artist Robert Barnum.

Automotive Center (former Technical and Applied Arts Center) (1956) - Comprises the instructional and lecture facilities for automotive services, automotive body, and auto and heavy equipment management. Several of the automotive programs offer associate and bachelor degrees.

Business Building (1970) - Houses the auditorium, classrooms and offices of the College of Business. Extensive terminal and mainframe computer facilities include one of the state's largest "library concept" microcomputer laboratories used for educational purposes.

Bishop Hall/College of Education (1967) - Built as a residence hall, it was remodeled in 1986 to house the College of Education administrative offices and classrooms and the Intensive English program. It also houses the office of the President, Academic Affairs, and Budgetary Planning.

Construction Technology Center (1962) - Provides lecture facilities for the energy systems technology and construction engineering technology program areas.

Creative Arts Center (1965) - This building houses the studios, classrooms, and faculty offices needed for the Studio Arts in the College of Arts and Sciences.

Ewigleben Sports Complex/Ice Arena - Comprises two indoor ice rinks and a recreational wing with facilities for intercollegiate hockey, recreational hockey and skating, basketball, and volleyball, all completed in 1975. An addition completed in 1981 includes a combatives room, fitness and sports medicine facilities and a mini-arena.

Heavy Equipment Technology Building (1987) - A 52,000-square-foot building accommodating students in the heavy equipment and auto programs. The HET building is the largest facility in the country dedicated to training heavy equipment and heavy duty engine technicians.

Holiday Inn Hotel and Conference Center (1993) - The facility is located adjacent to the Katke Golf Course and overlooks the campus. The complex houses 16,772 square-feet of meeting facilities, 118 guest rooms, banquet facilities and a restaurant. The conference facilities are used for continuing education activities, conferences and workshops.

Instructional Resource Center (1969) - Contains large lecture halls, distance learning room, and media services for the whole campus.

Katke Golf Course (1975) - An 18-hole golf course on campus, it is used for instructional, athletic and recreational purposes.

Michigan Walk of Art (1996) - The Ferris Renaissance, a series of campus aesthetic enhancements began with sculptor Barron Naegel dedicating three different figures in the Arts & Sciences Commons Building courtyard. His work was the inaugural sculpture for the Michigan Walk of Art, a brick pathway that connects various campus art works. A sculpture created by Kendall students, "Lighted Doorway" was unveiled in April 1997 and award winning sculptor R. Farrington Sharp unveiled his statue, "Escape" in October 1997.

Pennock Hall/College of Optometry (1968) - Built as a residence hall, it was renovated in 1977 to serve as the permanent home for the Michigan College of Optometry at F.S.U.

Pharmacy Building (1972) - Designed to house all operations of the College of Pharmacy, including specialized laboratories and the model pharmacy, and also contains an antique pharmacy exhibit.

Plastics Engineering Technology Center (1987) - Built with funds provided by the plastics industry, the center offers hands-on training in plastics processing, tool design and tool building, quality control and material and product testing.

Presidential Art Collection (1996) - Daniel Roache was chosen as the first contributor for a collection featuring commissioned works by Michigan artists representing Ferris presidents. His aluminum wall-mounted sculpture loosely representing the seven academic colleges hangs in the Williams Auditorium lobby.

Racquet Facility (acquired in 1980) - The facility contains tennis and racquetball courts and weight lifting and aerobics facilities for intramural and intercollegiate athletics and is open to the general public as well.

Rankin Center (1957) - Remodeled and updated in 1987, it is the hub of campus, housing the James L. Lundberg Bookstore, recreational facilities, offices for the student newspaper, student government and various other student organizations, catering/booking offices and the Ferris Art Gallery. On the administrative side, there are offices for minority affairs, student judicial services, student activities, career services, personal counseling, the vice president for student affairs and the dean of student life. Additional services include three dining facilities, meeting rooms and a large ballroom/banquet room.

Science Hall - Originally built in 1956 and remodeled and expanded in 1967, this building provides teaching auditoria, classrooms and science laboratories for the College of Arts and Sciences. It also houses the Rawlinson Observatory and the Roger Card wild animal collection. A major renovation, currently underway, will be completed in 1997.

Spathelf Center for Allied Health (1979) - This four-level structure contains the specialized classrooms, laboratories and offices for the students, faculty and administration of the College of Allied Health Sciences.

Starr Educational Center (1961) - FSU's largest general classroom building, Starr was built in 1961 and completely renovated in 1995. It provides classrooms for the College of Arts and Sciences, student lounges and study rooms. It also houses the G. Mennen Williams Auditorium, which seats 1,700.

Swan Technical Center (1966) - Many College of Technology department offices, classrooms, and laboratories designed specifically for engineering technology instruction, including computer/design, electronics, graphic arts, manufacturing engineering, materials science, mechanical measurements, fluid power, fluid mechanics, manufacturing tooling, welding, architectural technology and facilities management and surveying engineering, are located in this facility.

Technology Transfer Center (TTC) (donated in 1984 by Hitachi Metals International) - This 9,000-square-foot building located off campus on Big Rapids' east side, contains a fully equipped machine shop, computer laboratory including computer aided design stations, classrooms, a conference room and offices. (for more information see page 12)

Timme Library (1967) - Located at the center of campus, the 57,000 square foot, three-story Timme Library houses approximately 500,000 volumes with collections emphasizing health sciences, business and technology. There is an increasing array of electronic information sources and expert faculty and staff to assist the patron - student, faculty/ staff or community resident. (for more information see pages 8 & 9)

Tot's Place (instituted 1987) - Located on the first floor of Bishop Hall, it is the laboratory for the child development program. Tot's Place provides child care for children of students and faculty/staff as well as Big Rapids community residents.

Wink Arena - Located in the Health and Physical Education Building and named after the late James M. Wink.
